Flower notes

If you don't know the difference between a calla lily and an orchid, don't worry. A good florist will help translate your personal style into the perfect arrangements for your big day. Charlottesville florist Natalie Easterly of Flowers by Natalie describes her job as the art of interpretation. "I am the one who makes it happen the way you want it," she says. With Easterly's help, we've created a stress-free guide to get you from the florist's studio to the altar.
